Human and Civil Rights Framework

HUMAN RIGHTS

- Right to Self Determination
- Right to Safe and Healthy Work Conditions
- Right to Highest Standard of Physical and Mental Health
- Right to Food
- Right to a Decent Living Condition
- Equal Rights Between Men and Women
- Right of Youth and Children to be Free From Exploitation

CIVIL RIGHTS

- Ensuring peoples' physical integrity and safety.
- Protection from discrimination on grounds such as gender, religion, race, sexual orientation, national origin, age, immigrant status, etc.
- Equal access to health care, education, culture, etc.

Equity Framework

- Procedural equity encompasses fairness in political processes and participation in decision making.

- Distributive equity highlights the need to consider not just the allocation of benefits, but also the costs and risks with a focus on the outcomes of allocation decisions.
- Contextual equity recognizes the fact that the playing field is never level but that people's capabilities and their access to resources and power determine the extent to which they are able to utilize procedural equity to determine the best distributive outcome for themselves.

PUBLIC HOUSING

During Hurricane Katrina, over 1,800 individuals died because they were unable to evacuate the city.

Persons with special health conditions and persons who were elderly, poor, or differently abled were the most likely to die.

Low-income African Americans often could not evacuate because they had no personal transportation.

PRISONS

In the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, deputies left their posts altogether, leaving behind prisoners in locked cells, some standing in sewage-tainted water up to their chests.

Over the next few days, without food, water, or ventilation, prisoners broke windows in order to get air, and carved holes in the jail's walls in an effort to get to safety.

COAL BLOODED

Coal Blooded: Putting Profits Before People is a new report analyzing sulfur dioxide (SO₂) and Nitrogen Oxide (NO_x) emissions in conjunction with demographic factors – race, income, and population density – to rank the environmental justice performance of the nation's 378 coal fired power plants.

Download the Coal Blooded report >>

Download the Coal Blooded Executive Summary >>

The report is a joint production of NAACP, Little Village Environmental Justice Organization (LVEJO), the Indigenous Environmental Network and lead author and researcher Adrian Wilson, and will serve as a launching point for NAACP's campaign to address the issue of the pollution from coal fired power plants and disparate impacts on communities of color
